SUBJECT: Termination of employment

1. The Director has been embarrassed on several occasions due to efforts on the part of various CIA officials to ease the effect on individuals who, for administrative or security reasons, have been subject to termination of their employment with this agency.
2. Embarrassing situations have resulted from actions such as those listed below:
- a. Indicating that possibly other employment may be available within the agency although circumstances are such that reassignment is not feasible.
 - b. Arranging for direct interviews with other activities of CIA with a view to reassignment, with no immediate indication to such other activities of the basis of undesirability in current position.
 - c. Attempting to avoid permissible frankness with employee as to reasons for non-retention in current position.
 - d. Excessive delays in initiating final action toward separation.
 - e. Assurances to employee by immediate supervisor that the supervisor desires his retention, but is being over-ruled by higher authority.
3. All of these, and similar situations, can be avoided by adhering to the normal procedure of referring such cases to the Personnel Branch, AGM, for action immediately upon determination that termination of employment should be accomplished.
4. It is desired that all supervisory personnel under your jurisdiction be immediately instructed that--
